The Writing Plan

1. My classmates and I had a Guangdong, Hong Kong and Macau Exchange Camp.
2. We took this friendship picture in Macau.
3. The girl on the left, wearing a pink T-shirt, is Jane.
4. Jane is a helpful, sweet and a hard-working student.
5. She is my true friend.

My schoolmates and I took part in a Guangdong, Hong Kong and Macau Exchange Camp last school year. This camp lasted for six days. First, we visited students from Guangdong. We introduced ourselves and went sightseeing. After Guangdong, we visited Macau and stayed there for two days. Finally, they visited us in Hong Kong and stayed here for two days.

When we were in Macau, we took this friendship picture in Macau. Of all three places, it was the most exciting trip for us. There were many romantic views and great places to go, such as, the Ruin of St. Paul and A-Ma Temple. Look at the picture! We are happily smiling.

The girl on the left, wearing a pink T-shirt, is Jane. Jane is a narrow-faced girl and is wearing a pair of blue glasses. She is my best friend. She smiles sweetly. Her most special characteristic is that she has fluffy hair. We can see a line of white teeth when she reveals a smile. Behind the glasses, she has a pair of bright eyes. She always gives the “V” gesture when she feels happy or succeeds at something. From the picture, we can see that she is extremely excited.

Jane is a helpful and hard-working student. She usually has revision for homework, so she often gets good marks in all subjects. Moreover, she often teaches me some difficult math. I enjoy the time with her very much.

Jane is my true friend. We share our secrets. If I fail in an exam, she will support me to do better next time. If I am in a happy or a bad mood, I don't need to tell her. She knows what I think. If you have a true friend like Jane, you too will be a happy person like me!
